

Greg Peters – Intro

Before we start, ask yourself a few questions:

Would stronger connections make a difference in your life? Do you want more bottom-line results from your networking? Are you ready to be a rock star networker?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you'll be glad you're here. If you didn't, smile and pretend to pay attention anyway.

Our speaker today has built two successful businesses and has taught thousands of people the value of developing powerful personal connections.

When he isn't speaking about great networking, he lives in Ann Arbor with his wife and two daughters and trains as a Master Black Belt in Tae Kwon Do.

Helping us create connections with success, please join me in welcoming speaker, author, and guy who misplaced his four-year-old at Disneyworld, Greg Peters!

Greg Peters -- Outro

Thank you so much, Greg!

If you would like to pick up a signed copy of his book, Greg will be at his autograph table. He will be glad to answer any questions you might have about the program today.
